

KOHLER RENTAL

A passionate approach to golfing event logistics.

Kohler Rental — Because nothing's more important than the game.

At Kohler Rental, we know how much work it takes to host a successful golf event. Sure, it takes power, but that's just the beginning. From lining up sponsors for corporate tents to on-brand décor and dependable HVAC operation, it takes endless hours of coordinating to go from the initial planning to the actual competition.

We bring the experience, technical design services, product and passion to make your next golf event decidedly successful, and we do it with a team-focused approach entirely different than the competition, yielding a level of customer satisfaction second to none.

It all begins with partnership.

When you choose Kohler Rental to support your event, you will notice something different right from the start. Partnership. More than simply conducting business, we believe in forging partnerships with our customers – partnerships that ultimately provide value and benefits to both parties. Like you, we, too, are passionate about golf, and we take a great deal of pride in helping our clients put on truly special events – events that both spectator and competitor won't soon forget.

This idea of partnership isn't a new concept for us. After all, you don't remain successful as a privately held, family-owned business for over 135 years without embodying the fundamentals of partnership. To us, partnership isn't a slogan. It's the only way we know how to do business. As our client and partner, you will be assigned a team of seasoned golf event professionals, including a devoted Kohler Rental project leader. We believe our team-driven, collaborative approach yields the most successful golfing events, and, by design, delivers worry-free peace of mind.
